

Managed SharePoint 2013 upgrade with custom branding and functionality helps HCC International meet key business and compliance needs

“We had managed for several years on the SharePoint 2007 and 2003 versions with no branding or customisations, but knew we could offer our users much more. With no specific internal SharePoint expertise, a supported upgrade seemed the best route forward.”

HCC International

HCC International is a leading specialty insurer offering niche services across sectors as diverse as Energy, Marine and Film Production. They had been running SharePoint 2007 for a number of years, but saw the significant improvements its US colleagues had experienced by upgrading to a later version.

At the same time HCC also saw an opportunity to automate a number of essential business workstreams, including some compliance obligations related to Solvency II legislation using automatic documentation set versioning – a feature not available in SharePoint 2007.

- Upgraded and fully rebranded Intranet portal delivers improved efficiency and document management for the business.

Intelligent document storage and search capabilities enables faster access to important data.

- SharePoint fully relaunched as a core business communication tool with teamsites and project sites revamped to enable better collaboration.

Single access point to critical information across all teams and operational units.

- Business critical Solvency II compliance addressed using automatic documentation set creation and versioning.

Workflow automation used to ensure compliance demands are met.

- System Upgrade and staged migration from SharePoint 2007 to SharePoint 2013.

Best practise upgrade ensured minimal downtime and no impact to the business.

Mike Murray, CTO at HCC International said “We had managed for several years on the SharePoint 2007 and 2003 versions with no branding or customisations, but knew we could offer our users much more. With no specific internal SharePoint expertise, a supported upgrade seemed the best route forward”.

“It looks better, works better and is now a platform we can take forward” says Gafyn MacMillan, Project Manager at HCC, when asked about the benefits of the new solution. “We’re definitely keen to get more out of SharePoint’s extensive features and have been looking at the Excel services components, SQL reporting services, and office web apps integration in particular”.
